14/60 fuel changeover tap

Written by H 54 John at Feb 19, 2018 12:54 pm

Has anyone sourced new corks for the fuel changeover tap on the 14/60? I imagine the same tap is used on the Speed models. The corks are of small diameter (about 0.5 inches) and I cannot find anything appropriate on the internet.

Thanks!

John, H54

I believe you will find the Rapier Register sells them. I believe they sell only to register members. No doubt Colin Mallett will be along shortly.

Stephen - I've now checked and it appears that the Rapier uses the larger diameter Enots tap - the one for which the Lagonda Club provides spare seals (GSKX01). The seals for the 14/60 tap (and also the Speed Model tap I think) are smaller (about 18mm diameter) and have a different method of location. Shame!
