

Lagondaforum: 1956 Lagonda saloon for sale on ebay

1956 Lagonda saloon for sale on ebay

Written by reevsy at Aug 04, 2008 11:33 am

Follow this link

http://cgi.ebay.co.uk/Classic-Aston-Martin-Lagonda-MKII-Saloon-1956-TRU600_W0QQitemZ320281839807QQcmdZViewItem?hash=item320281839807&_trkparms=72%3A12%7C39%3A1%7C66%3A2%7C65%3A12&_trksid=p3286.c0.m14.l1318

Re: 1956 Lagonda saloon for sale on ebay

Written by oakley at Aug 04, 2008 10:52 pm

How anyone can hope to sell a car which is advertised as a Lagonda (which it isn't), a minimal and confused description and with three illustrations of three different cars is beyond me.

Re: 1956 Lagonda saloon for sale on ebay

Written by reevsy at Aug 04, 2008 11:20 pm

I Think buyer beware:

Photo 1: <http://www.motorbase.com/vehicle/by-id/588/>

Photo 2: This car was offered for sale some months back in Holland, I think

Peter

Re: 1956 Lagonda saloon for sale on ebay

Written by baldrick at Jun 30, 2010 9:58 am

Dear Members,

I have recently joined this site due to coming into possession of a 1952 Lagonda 2.6 Saloon. The chassis no. is LAG/2/50/522 and the engine no. is LB6A/50/601. I know very little about these vehicles and indeed even less about this particular example, other than it was originally purchased by The Fairy Avation Company. The car has been stored in a garage for nearly 30 years but is in remarkably good shape considering. Can any member here assist with any historic details?