Lagonda Club on-line spares ordering system

Written by Colin M34 at Apr 29, 2009 7:45 am

Dear All,

I am pleased to report that the Lagonda Club on-line spares ordering system is now available to use. It can be reached at http://lagondaclub.co.uk/spares/ . I have used a very good commercial package called Actinic. The Club only sells spares to members and we do check!

Robin, the Club spares officer, will process orders submitted on the site, with me looking on to make sure everything runs smoothly. It took ages to photograph and collate parts descrptions so bear with us if there are any errors. I regard it still in beta test so feel free to send me a private message if you spot any inconsitencies or you have any other comments! Actinic is nice to use and I can easily update the site.

Enjoy shopping

Hi Colin,
Just a short post to thank you for all the hard work you have put in to get the online spares system up and running. I had a look at it a few weeks ago prior to it becoming operational. It seemed very good at that time.
I will now have a further look and sort out if I need to order anything. I wil then give it a try!
best wishes
Mike Heins

Re: Lagonda Club on-line spares ordering system + New web site!!

It is good to report that, building on the past experience with the Clubs first Web Site, that our New site went live in mid November 2012 with greater feature and particularly a developped Spares ordering area which also includes clothing, and manuals - all of which can be paid for online via Sage pay for credit card use in all currencies! So all thegood work Colin M put in, has paved the way for greater usage and accessibility!
The Members area also has new items where Members can post their own picture of their cars and reports too - We all hope this will support Members worldwide with Newsletters being posted at the same time as the printed version is posted out - so all can get A GOOD CHANCE ON ADS FOR SPARES AND CARS FOR SALE. Try it out on the usual web addresses including www.lagondaclub.com - AND let us know of your thoughts too please.
