Tim,

You could ask David Ayre about a chassis. I visited him a couple of times a few years ago for some parts and have vague memories that he may have had a chassis or two lying about. No idea what condition though or even if he still has them or what they were. I would think Lagonda of some sort. Alan Brown has loads of parts too. May not have a chassis but no harm asking. Both listed in Club members book.

Good luck

David
