Anyone here from Tucson AZ?

Written by David at May 26, 2011 2:45 pm

Is it at all possible that any readers of this forum or friends are from Tucson please. I am trying to track down a DB Rapide last heard of there in 1990s apparently in a paint shop, and so to find out if it is a now-known or still-unknown car. Many thanks

It now looks like this was car 110, recorded as being for sale in March 1992 in the Uk having been stored outside in Arizona for some years. Now believed to be in Queensland, Australia (since 1993 when it was advertised for sale again), and in very good condition if the pictures on the internet are a guide
