Interesting to see the window winder tool; is the business end a square drive or round with a slot? I just had need of the latter...Fortunately I was able to borrow one locally

Round with a slot. Just starting to strip the motors down - not easy!

This appears to be the correct tool roll bag, albeit very expensive.
at $185

Will let you know what tools / roll I find in 126 on Tuesday.

I have already seen the jack and window winder for non-working problematic electric windows.
