Am I a sucker for punishment?

Over the years, I have managed to aquire a spare 3litre engine. Last week, I managed to pick up a spare gearbox. Now I am determined to track down a 3Litre 2 door saloon that surfaced briefly in the Brockville, Ontario area about 5 years ago. It had been "robbed" of its mechanicals for a DB2/4 restoration. So the search is on?

Yes you probably are, but then again maybe all Lagonda owners are.

I have been collecting enough spares to build a second engine for my 16/80 over the last couple of years and I am nearly there.

Good luck with your hunt.
