Lagondaforum: PM and email

PM and email
Written by Peter S30 at Apr 10, 2012 1:32 pm

Dear users,

 it is nice that there is more and more activity on this forum. But this also means we have to keep it clear and logical. One point is to post in the right place, to answer to a question or to start a new thread if you do not want to answer but to discuss something else.

 The forum should not be used for personal messages in the public like: "dear Bob I have sent you an email". Bob should read his emails, and not need to be asked through the forum to read them

 Yours
 Peter
