

Lagondaforum: Unrestored 1933 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Unrestored 1933 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by SRD at Oct 18, 2012 9:25 am

An unrestored 3.0 litre saloon, coming up for auction at Richard Edmonds, with estimate of 30-35k.

http://www.catalogue-host.co.uk/richardedmonds/2012-10-26/category\_2\_page\_1

Year : 1933

Reg. no. TV 9829

Chassis no. 10640

Engine no. 2389

---

Re: Unrestored 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by Peter S30 at Oct 18, 2012 9:30 am

I think this is much money if you can buy a restored example for 60'000 GBP (see post <http://lagondaforum.com/showtopic.php?id=572>)

---

Re: Unrestored 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by SRD at Oct 18, 2012 9:37 am

Peter hi

I fully agree with you, and the restored car looks splendid, and doesn't sell

But, if memory serves me correctly, the last example was back in June / July (?) made around 35-38k, which I couldn't understand...

Previous auction:

18th July 2012, Brightwells Auctions Leominster, 1932 3 Litre Saloon

---

Re: Unrestored 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by randall977 at Oct 18, 2012 11:06 am

This is the car which was at Beaulieu, see this thread;

Link to thread...

Cars (and buildings) are highly attractive when they are in this state - the sense of past and potential for the future!

---

Re: Unrestored 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by SRD at Oct 18, 2012 11:28 am

and of course, a whopping big resto bill...

---

Re: Unrestored 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by SRD at Oct 29, 2012 4:18 pm

The car sold for 30,000 +10% bp, making a total of 33,000 pounds for a smell of past splendor.

Good to see unrestored saloon prices are holding up.

Lagondaforum: Unrestored 1933 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Re: Unrestored 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by daveaston at Oct 31, 2012 10:46 pm

This car and the Brightwells car are one and the same. Has someone had a change of mind?

I too saw this car at Beaulieu. I do hope it stays a saloon, but it looked a daunting project to me.

---

Re: Unrestored 1933 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by SRD at Nov 01, 2012 10:30 am

Dave hi,

You are 100% correct, same car, I missed that!

Original buyer at Brightwells at 38k appears to have defaulted, hence the car offered for a second time and sold for somewhat less.

But, still what a resto bill and work ahead of them...

---

Re: Unrestored 1933 3.0 litre saloon at auction

Written by TVJL at Nov 01, 2012 4:12 pm

Goodness me! 🤔

---