Here is a link to a nice grey Rapide with red interior...

Not sure of the quality, but looks very nice in the picture.

If you are keen, no doubt you could collect the cars in each of the main colours used by the works when new...

A friend of mine bought me one of these, not sure it was a Neo (model manufacturer) but actually a pretty accurate model - think mine has a slightly better grill on the front though.

David - I think you are right, modelled on 138, for which there are a few pictures available.
