Radiator cowl for LG45 in fair or good condition (no major dents / ripples / cracks) please?

Also looking for the small lever for locking drivers door from inside...

Thanks

The club has one (rad shell) listed in their second hand spares described as repairable.

Thank you David

I have been up to the spares and seen that and decided it was not much better than mine. It is possibly just repairable but really a pattern ...was hoping that there might be a better one out there somewhere.

Best Regards

Bill

PS: We were at the AGM weekend and were much impressed by the warm welcome and friendly atmosphere

Hi Guys,

I also went and looked at the shell today. I agree, it's nothing special, but at least it exists and could be restored if needed.
