

Lagondaforum: Bonhams NewPort Pagnell AM Sale 2015

Bonhams NewPort Pagnell AM Sale 2015

Written by SRD at Apr 23, 2015 4:05 pm

There are no DB Lagondas or a Rapide at this years Newport Pagnell auction, a great shame indeed; unless there may still be late entries ?

See :

http://www.bonhams.com/search/?q=lagonda&main_index_key=lot#/aa0=4&MR0_main_index_key=lot&m0=0&q0=lagonda&ag0=future?q=lagonda

Re: Bonhams NewPort Pagnell AM Sale 2015

Written by David at May 09, 2015 7:47 pm

LR155 is still in the heritage area at WS, has it been there since the last auction?

Re: Bonhams NewPort Pagnell AM Sale 2015

Written by yted at May 12, 2015 8:10 pm

Hi David,

as the vendor of 155 last year, can you please tell me what WS stands for, and what the implications might be if it is still there in the heritage area.

Thanks, from a long way away.

Re: Bonhams NewPort Pagnell AM Sale 2015

Written by TVJL at May 12, 2015 8:43 pm

As David isn't online at the moment Mark, perhaps I can help. 'WS' stands for 'Works Service', which is now called (rather confusingly, I think) either 'Aston Martin Works' or 'Works': <http://www.astonmartinworks.com>

I did not attend the auction myself this year but a contact sent me this picture of 155 taken on the day. She looks 'well'. However, I imagine (though don't know) that the car is still being fettled.

Regards, Tim

Attachments:

IMG_8842.jpg (filesize: 169.88 KB)

Re: Bonhams NewPort Pagnell AM Sale 2015

Written by David at May 14, 2015 6:34 pm

Tim, thanks for replying to Mark. Sorry for using jargon

It looked as though the rear suspension had had some work as the trailing arm pivot castings appeared new. Otherwise we were kept away by the barrier seen in Tim's photo
