LR110 for sale in Holland

The much travelled Lagonda Rapide, LR110 is now for sale in Holland. The car just back from Australia in 2014.

No price, but clearly £200k plus, as befits such a fine motor car:

I have photos from during its restoration in Queensland, including body upside down on the jig. They were on the web years ago but I don't know if they are still there. You can see that the car has a modified bonnet with 2 additional air inlets below the windscreen as well as the slot at the front

David hi

I remember noticing the highly modified bonnet 3 years ago.

Strangely enough the owner of LR155. who lives some way outside of Sydney , ran his car with no extra modifications. But if I recall correctly he said that the slush box cooked you in summer.

I would be very interested to see the pictures of LR155 during restoration, if at all possible, could you forward them to me please by email ?

Also noted that LR153 back up for sale again, he should have gone for Bonham's
